DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

A Terrible Earthquake Almost Levels Charleston and Other Cities.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Southern telegraph company reports it has succeeded in re-opening communication with Charleston, South Carolina. The operator in that city says the earthquake shock there last night, was very severe and several lives lost and a number of persons were injured.

VIA RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 1.—A dispatch just received here, says: "The streets of Charleston are blocked with fallen buildings, telegraph poles and tangled wires. Over sixty persons were killed or wounded. After the earthquake, fires broke out in different parts of the city, but they are not now spreading. The population spent the night in the streets and vacant lots. There is so much confusion it is hard to get at the facts."

DIRECT FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 1, 11 a. m.—An earthquake, such as has never before been known in the history of this city, affected Charleston last night shortly after ten o'clock, causing more loss and injury to property and far more loss of life than the cyclone of a year before. The city is wrecked, streets encumbered with masses of fallen bricks, and tangled telegraph and telephone wires, and up to an early hour it was almost impossible to pass from one part of the city to another. The first shock was by far the most severe. Most of the people with their families, passed the night in the streets, which even this morning are crowded with people, afraid to re-enter their homes. More than sixty persons were killed and wounded, mostly colored. Among the whites killed and fatally injured are: M. J. Lynch, Dr. R. Alexander Hammond and Ainsley Robinson. Fires broke out in different parts of the city immediately after the earthquake and some are still burning, but there is no danger of its spreading. There is no way of leaving the city at present.

ANOTHER SHOCK.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 1.—A special from Charleston says: "At 8:25 this morning another wave swept over the city, coming from the southeast and going northwest. By that time people who had been on the public streets and open places all night had ventured into their homes to get their clothing and something to eat. The approach of the quake was heralded by a rumbling sound resembling distant thunder. The quake then passed, the sound dying away in the distance. This was the only wave felt to-day.

AWFUL SCENES

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 1.—The terrible earthquake last night at 9:50, destroyed the business portion of the city. Men were frantic, women beseeched mercy from the Almighty, public buildings were irreparably damaged and many people seriously if not fatally injured. Women armed with hatchets, fought valiantly to rescue the imprisoned unfortunates and to add to the horror, many fires broke out and were ineffectually fought by the fire department. The night was hideous with the groans of the dying, screams of the wounded and prayers of the uninjured. Up to 10 o'clock a. m., there had been more shocks.

THE SCENES DESCRIBED.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—The city is a complete wreck. St. Michael's and St. Philip's churches, two of the most historic churches in the city, are in ruins. Also Hibernia hall. Fully two-thirds of the residences in the city are uninhabitable, wrecked totally or partially. It is impossible to give a correct estimate of the casualties. It is conjectured that between fifty and 100 were killed and several hundred wounded. At the first shock fires broke out in five places in the city. Twenty houses were destroyed by fire. Scarcely a hundred houses in the city are occupied at this time. People are encamped in open places. All stores are closed and a scarcity of provisions is feared, because no one can be got to reach the stores to sell them.

PEOPLE CAMPING OUT

2:30 p. m.—The city is wrapped in gloom and business is suspended. People are generally in the streets, in tents and under improvised shelter and will camp out to night, fearing another shock. The gas works are injured and probably the city will be without light to-night. St. Michael's church is shattered and the steeple will come down; likewise the steeple of St. Philip's. The steeple of the Unitarian church has fallen. Porticoes of the Hibernian hall and the main station house are demolished. There is much injury to mansions and the east and south batteries. The portion of the Ravenal mansion is down. Hardly a house in the city has escaped injury. Many are so shaken and cracked, that a hard blow would bring them down to the ground. The shock was severe at Summerville and Mt. Pleasant and Sullivan's Island, but no loss of life is reported. Fires in the earth are noticed from which fine sand apparently from a great depth, exudes. A sulphurous smell is very noticeable.

Three or four fires started in as many sections with the first shock. The city was illuminated with flames, thus leaving all to believe that whatever was left by the earthquake would be devoured by the fire. However, the fire department was so well divided and handled that the fires were under control by day-light. From fifteen to twenty residences and stores were consumed. The loss by fire and the earthquake cannot be accurately estimated, but can safely be placed at $5,000,000. As far as could be ascertained during the night, fifteen to twenty were killed and a much greater number were wounded. Charleston is now entirely isolated from the outside world.

Summerville, twenty-two miles from Charleston, was nearly destroyed by the earthquake last night. The passenger train from here to Charleston was thrown off the track near Summerville. The engineer and fireman were killed, and the passengers on the wrecked train and those on this morning's train, including the telegraph company's line men, have not reached Charleston.

THE CITY.

Charleston is the chief port and largest city of South Carolina, with a population of about 75,000. The city is famous for its bay and picturesque surroundings. It has numerous costly public buildings, educational institutions and magnificent promenades. Three railroads run into it, besides many lines of steamers. Open hostilities of the civil war began at Charleston, where Fort Sumpter was bombarded April 12, 1861.

A RELIEF TRAIN.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1, 12 m.—A relief train has been dispatched to Charleston to assist the sufferers and repair the railroad.

FRIGHT AT COLUMBIA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 1.—At 9:48 last night this city was visited by a terrible earthquake. The first two shocks were fearful, buildings swayed from side to side and the earth rose and fell like waves of the ocean. People rushed madly from the houses into the streets, some sprang from windows and were injured. The experience of those in the buildings at the first shock was that of being rocked as in a ship at sea. Many of the most substantial buildings were shaken to the foundation, walls cracked, and shrunk. Five minutes after the first shock the second came, and ten minutes later a third. Other shocks followed until 10:50 p. m., when the eighth shock was felt, and this lasted a minute and a half. At 4 o'clock this morning the ninth shock came; at 9:30 and 10:20 the city again trembled. There was very little sleep by any of the inhabitants of Columbia. Negroes thought the end of the world had come and held prayer meetings on the street corners.

IN INDIANA

EVANSVILLE, Sept. 1.—Last evening at 9 o'clock this city was visited by two earthquakes. The motion of the first shock was that of a series of waves, which lasted several minutes. In about fifteen minutes afterward the second wave, although slight in comparison with the first, produced much excitement. Great consternation was caused among the colored population, who were holding services in the court house. They all rushed out into the street, thinking that a mob was attacking the jail. Every building in the city was shaken.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—There was a shock of earthquake here last night which created some excitement, but did no damage. It occurred a few minutes before 9 o'clock and lasted a few seconds.

THE SHOCK ELSEWHERE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The officials of the signal service bureau report that four distinct shocks were felt here. The first began at 9:54 and lasted forty seconds, the second shock was felt at 1:04, and was followed by another at 10:10, and by a fourth at 10:30. Professor Capen, the weather prophet of this city, predicted in the Republican several days ago that "awful and terrific" earthquake shocks would be reported about this date. He says that it is possible that there will be another about 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. When the shock came last night Mr. Capen was in the Republican office writing his predictions for to-morrow. As soon as the building began to shake, the editors, reporters and compositors on the Republican and the Post—which are in the same building—all ran out, but Mr. Capen remained. There were frights in other parts of the city, especially at the theatre.

RAILROAD TRAINS WRECKED.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—Two shocks of earthquake were felt this morning at 7:59 and 9:20, city time. The excitement has subsided. A number of houses have been reported to the fire warden as in danger, and from all parts of the city and surrounding neighborhood comes the reports of falling chimneys, parting of walls and smashing of crockery.

In a railroad accident at Langley Pond, ten miles south of Augusta, the fireman was killed. Another South Carolina railroad train is in the ditch at Horse creek, four miles from the city and the fireman is killed. The latter is a stock train and completely under water. The shocks broke dams at Langley and Bath. The South Carolina railroad tracks are washed away.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 1.—A shock swayed business buildings slightly north to south. At Jacksonville, Ill., buildings rocked but no damage. At Jacksonville, Ill., buildings vibrated east to west and people were greatly frightened. At Vicksburg, Mississippi, the council was in session and the city hall, a very tall building on the high brick pillars was made to rock so that the board adjourned suddenly and unceremoniously. At Hannibal, Mo., the walls of buildings swayed, meetings adjourned hastily and the printers in the Journal office dropped their sticks and prepared to run, but the shock was over before they got started.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—Dispatches coming in give brief accounts of the earthquake at Murphysboro. The shock was quite severe. Brick walls shook, glassware clinked, doors vibrated and the fire bell kept up a rapid alarm for more than a minute. The Forester's lodge had assembled in the second story, and so violent was the rocking that members without hats rushed down into the street. Some people were affected with nausea. There were two distinct shocks, lasting about a minute.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—At 9 o'clock last night a shock of earthquake caused considerable excitement in the city. It was of short duration, but distinctly felt in different parts of the town. In the Free Press building the editorial force made a stampede for the street. Clocks were stopped and the telephone interfered with.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—J. H. Averill, master of transportation of the South Carolina railroad company, telegraphs from Summerville that many have been killed and hundreds are homeless. The whole business portion of the city was badly wrecked.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 1.—Large buildings were shaken to their foundations about 9 o'clock last night by an earthquake shock that lasted nearly a minute. People fled in affright to the street. Windows were broken in numerous buildings and pictures fell from the walls.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—At 9:57 last evening very decided earthquake shocks were felt here. In the upper stories of the tall western Union building in this city the waves were plainly discernable, and persons walking about experienced the sensation as of falling.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 1.—At the blind institute and asylum for the insane the shock was distinctly heard at 8:50 last evening, and the inmates were badly frightened. Chairs were rocked in the city and chandeliers swung to and fro.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1.—The earthquake is the topic of the hour. Efforts to reach Charleston have been made from all points and failed. At Tybee the shock was more severely felt than in the city.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—An earthquake shock lasting about one minute occurred here last night. Buildings swayed perceptibly. No damage is reported. People left the theaters and ran into the streets and great excitement prevails.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here last night, the longer one at 8:54 and the shorter at 8:57. It was very perceptible to all in tall buildings, but not felt by the majority of the people.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—About 9:35 last evening a shock of earthquake was felt here, lasting about thirty seconds. The vibrations were from west to east.

To all these may be added, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mobile, Ala.; Montgomery, Ala.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Raleigh, N. C.; Lynchburg, Va.; Lexington, Ky.; Macon, Ga.; Memphis, Tenn.; Charleston, Va.; Meadville, Pa.; Davenport, Iowa; Jamestown, N. Y.; Plainfield, N. J.

Hon. Wm. Fleming is out in Iowa. Miss Lida Gaffney, who has been sick for the past week, is better.

THE POLITICIANS.

Republican Candidates for State Offices and Their Contests.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—Nothing tangible presents itself yet to the observer of republican politics upon which to base a reasonable guess as to who will comprise the state ticket. Much depends upon the head of the ticket, and there is nothing so chaotic as this very member. Surface indications continue to point to Colonel Robertson, of Fort Wayne, as the probable nominee for lieutenant governor, but it can not be said that this is entirely satisfactory. Colonel Robertson is popular, but there is a reaching out for Porter or Harrison.

The Grand hotel all day was alive with candidates and delegates. The American flag was displayed by the hotel people on the outside, while the inside was less ornately decorated by the candidates with tickets and posters announcing their candidacy and locating their headquarters. The candidates are practically all on the field, and the delegate who has arrived in advance is made the object of profound and universal attention. There is little display of overconfidence on the candidates' part, yet all are expressing themselves as content with the indications that Griffin is faring well for secretary of state, though Baldwin and Stritter are being heard from often. Gus Lemcke, of Evansville, candidate for treasurer of state, arrived yesterday and created something of a flutter. Byram and Beem have been on the field for several days. The supreme court clerkship will occasion a warm contest. There are five aspirants, and all of them are formidable. Noble may be in the lead, but Whittaker, and Yancy are numerous supporters, and John Wheatley is making many friends. Gooding, of Vanderburg, is only a confidential candidate.

The contest for the attorney generalship is arousing some heat. Some of the friends of Mr. Lovett are claiming that Mr. Michener, secretary of the republic can state central committee, is using his position to secure the nomination, and that he has been traveling about the state at the expense of the committee while electioneering for himself. These charges to-day were indignantly denied by Mr. Michener, who denounces them as false and malicious, and challenges investigation. Chairman Huston, of the committee, says that "Mr. Michener has given his time to the duties of the secretaryship to the exclusion of attention to his canvass." Mr. Michener further claims that in five trips to five cities of the state, which he visited in the interest of the central committee, he paid expenses out of his own pocket, that it might not be charged that he was working his own interests at the expense of the committee. There are no other candidates for the attorney generalship than the two named.

Col. W. W. Dudley is among the arrivals at the Denison house.

"What is your estimate of the political situation in Indiana?" was asked of him.

"There never was a better fighting chance for the republicans, and they seem to be in the humor to take advantage of that chance. They are apparently perfectly harmonious and disposed to accept every opportunity which the situation affords."

Two views: Chairman Henderson, of the democratic central committee: "Oh, certainly, we'll carry the state. No congressional trouble can defeat our state and legislative tickets." Chairman Huston, of the republican committee: "Our chances are excellent. Much, of course, depends upon the platform, but I think there is no doubt that we will carry Indiana."

The republican wise men are endeavoring to hit upon a satisfactory expression of views on the liquor question. As ex-Governor Porter to-day said: "The waters are muddy—have not settled yet, so that we can not see clearly what is to be done." It is declared the platform will declare for a protective tariff, but not, as Blaine advocates, protection. The Maine statesman seems to have gone further than his party in this state will follow him.

The convention will be called to order by Chairman Huston. There will be no temporary organization. There is a strong desire on the part of many delegates to make this a soldiers' ticket. One or more soldiers are candidates for every office, and several of them will, no doubt, "get there."

Illinois Republicans.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 1.—The republican state convention was called to order at noon. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention adjourned till 8 o'clock.

DEATH

To the Poor Christians in China.

Missionaries Driven from their Houses and Butchered and Murdered by Cruel Natives.

No Efforts Made to Stop the Terrible Work—Foreign Consuls Barely Escape with their Lives.

BLOODY WORK.

Christian Missionaries and People Massacred in China.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 1.—Advices from Ching-Too-Foo, the chief city of the province of Sechnen, state that the natives of the eastern part of that province and those of northern Cochin-China have risen against the christians and are massacring them and destroying their property. This active persecution is attributed to the imprudence of the English and American missionaries. In Cochin-China alone fifty christians have been killed, their houses burned and their farms destroyed.

In Sechnen a general massacre of Christians is reported to be in progress and they are killed wherever found. It is said that whole villages occupied by professors of that faith are being devastated. The apostolic vicar's residence in Sechnen has been burned to the ground. Not a piece of furniture, nor a book, nor a paper was saved. The foreign consuls barely escaped from Sechnen with their lives.

No efforts have been made up to the latest reports to quell the disorder, and so far as known it continues unexpressed.

A SPOUT

Creates Consternation out in Iowa.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—A dispatch was received at the city hall yesterday afternoon from the mayor of Belle Plaine, Ia., which states that an artesian well four inches in diameter burst when the depth of 180 feet had been reached in boring, and instantly a volume of water was forced into the air to the distance of several hundred feet.

This gradually increased in size and volume until a stream of water fully sixteen inches in diameter was formed, and the upward force of this stream is equal to the power of powder or dynamite. The flood threatens buildings and streets and all efforts to stay the spout have so far been futile. Huge stones and bags of sand were blown high in the air by the water.

One Day Early.

PELHAM SANITARIUM, Ind., Sept. 1.—J. G. Fisher and C. H. Miller, of Fort Wayne, were arrested here Tuesday evening for violation of the game law. Each pleaded guilty to shooting prairie chickens and were fined $10 each by Esg. Van Auker. One day too early boys.

The Third District.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—The following telegram has been received here by Mayor Harrison: Washington, Aug. 31.—Owing to the condition of my health I cannot submit my name to go before the people as a candidate for congress. I am bed-fast. S. M. Stock-lager. This leaves the field to Congressman Howard, regular democrat, and insures his election.

Mr. Frank Nirdlinger, who has been spending several months at Duluth, Minn., returned to the city this morning.

Supt. P. S. O'Rourke and family returned to-day from Petoskey, where they passed the summer months at their pleasant Lakeside cottage.

George Esmond and A. D. Cressler's colored hostler were arrested to-day for fast driving. They had a "brush" on Calhoun street, and now Justice France is having a brush with them.

The police raided the Nellie Hines mansion last night and arrested Nellie, two maids and three visitors. They put up $18 a piece and the officers divided the gold, which the plump but ancient Nellie produced.

CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by females within the reach of all passed into the hands of one competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, sniffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly relieves the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

KIDNEY PAINS.

An officer soon shouted "Hats off," but the jurymen took no heed of the warning. AN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Kansas State Educational Institution Illustrated.

The agricultural colleges of the western states are, as a rule, superior to those in the east. In educational matters generally, in fact, as far as public schools and things pertaining to them are concerned, the west is in advance of the east. It adopts improved methods at once, laying off its townships square and the streets of its cities according to the points of the compass. It has no wrong old systems to pull down and clear away, in which respect it is lucky.

Kansas particularly is one of the liveliest, most progressive states in the Union. It ought to be. Its people are the sons and daughters of those heroic souls who fought for free Kansas and won.

KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE.

One of the liveliest of her public institutions is her State Industrial college. It is not an agricultural college, you will observe, and is not called so, although farming is carried on there to a considerable extent. Its scope includes the industrial trades as well.

In the discussion of the ensilage question, which is now chronic, a competent expert writes that the most poorly constructed silos and the loudest smelling products from them came from the state agricultural colleges of the country. This is rough on the learned professors who spend their time analyzing the St. Andrew's cross of the butter globe under the microscope, but it is no doubt true, more's the pity.

The Kansas State Industrial college was not one of those from which the ensilage that smelled like rotten cabbage came. That is sufficient to say. It has also an excellent course of text book study.

The institution has been in existence twenty-three years. Those who provided freedom for Kansas provided also for the education of her citizens. In 1869 congress made a noble grant of land to the young state for a school of learning. The college was started at the town of Manhattan, in 1869.

Congress gave the land. The state set about doing the rest. It made money appropriations, and buildings were erected and grounds laid out. The view of the main college building strikes the eye as somewhat peculiar. It is a fine and imposing structure of white limestone, as all the college buildings are. But the absence of large trees is noticeable at once, suggesting the great treeless land of the north-west. Yet western energy is providing for even that lack in the landscape, and before the present generation has vanished from the scene Kansas and the other states will have miles of young forest, planted by the hands of indomitable pioneers.

The adjunct buildings of the various departments are grouped about the main one. Horticultural hall has a large workshop and an extensive cabinet, illustrating horticulture and entomology, the latter a science in which the modern farmer is unfortunately comparatively ignorant as much interested as in grains and vegetables.

Mechanics' hall is the factory where young artisans are made. It contains carpenter and blacksmith shops, and telegraph and printing offices. The institution prints a neat and handsome college paper, "The Industrialist," weekly, the work on which is all done by the students.

All the buildings are on a generous scale. Mechanics' hall is 39 by 100 feet, and has an engine room attached. Horticultural hall is provided with a boiler room and steam heating apparatus.

The extensive grounds belonging to the school are laid out with an eye to artistic beauty in landscape gardening. There are grain fields, pasture and meadow lands, a nursery, and orchards of large and small fruits. There is also a nursery, where fruit and ornamental trees may be tested to find whether they will grow in Kansas. The strong young school has also a scientific club. Best of all, it possesses an endowment of little less than $300,000.

The department of chemistry and mineralogy possesses the best equipments of apparatus in the state. There are ample fixtures for blow-pipe analysis, tin-lined tanks, sand baths, steam coils, a spectroscopic, assay furnace and two analytical balances. These are only a small part of the furnishings of that complete laboratory. The Mudge mineralogical collection shows several hundred specimens of western ores.

LABORATORY.

One of the best of the branches of the institution, however, is its household economy department. The college admits both sexes. They study and recite in the same classes. For the girls especially, however, there are classes of instruction in cooking, sewing and dairy work. A model kitchen is part of the plan, and the young women practice cooking an hour a day in the dining term. They learn plain and fancy dishes, pastry and cake making and how to set tables and wait on them besides.

A military drill is part of the young men's training, and a large and handsome hall is given up to them for exercises. This is an admirable feature, and ought to be attached to all schools, of what kind soever. In a hall above the drill room the department of natural history is to be shortly established.

The farm proper contains 250 acres. A spacious stone barn and sheds are attached. Of the graduates of the school, many of the young men become farmers, while a large proportion of the girls become teachers.

From all walks of life they come to the state college. A list of the occupations of the parents of the students gives among others a landress, a barber and a day laborer, side by side with the banker, the lawyer and the wealthy man of leisure. This is truly the people's college.

ENGLISH WOMEN.

What Caste Does for Them Over the Sea, Poor Things.

Gen. Adam Badeau, in one of his recent articles on the aristocracy, tells the following unpalatable truths: The women of the aristocracy are profoundly affected by the institution of caste. Their lives and characters are widely different from what they would be without its influence. Born dependent on the other sex; ineligible for the most part, to independent rank; only the daughters, or wives, or sisters, or mothers of peers; deprived of any equitable share of fortune; doomed to be, more than any other women, the mere appendage of man—all the disadvantages of sex are for them intensified in a peculiar degree.

The two facts of their absolute dependence and their consequent and necessary anxiety to please a man—far other and greater than the natural desire of woman for a mate—cannot but tell upon the character and develop traits not in themselves attractive or lovely. They make the women less trustful, less unselfish. They detract from the exquisite delicacy which is woman's greatest charm. The woman who is known to seek a man is far less likely to be sought; yet every high-born woman in England feels that she is in the market waiting for the highest bidder; every desirable man thinks he has but to throw the handkerchief.

Finally, the English women are inferior in position to the men, and this not only makes them inferior in individuality and force of character, but lessens the attractiveness of their behavior. There is something about them, when compared to the men, that makes you think of the deference the second rate people pay a lord—a relative absence of distinction. No one can possess perfect manly dignity who is essentially conscious that his own dignity is inferior to that of his companion, and no woman in England is the equal of a man. This is one result of caste.

MISS DOLORES LLEONARTE CASANOVAS has just received the degree of M. D. at Barcelona. "She began," says the Pall Mall Gazette, "her university studies at the age of 8, when 13 she became a B. A., and now, at the ripe age of 19, after coming out first in all her examinations, and taking numerous prizes, she is a fully qualified physician and surgeon. Fancy a female B. A. of 13 discharging on hideous diseases with six-syllabled names, and correctly diagnosing and prescribing for her brothers and sisters. But it is what we have got to expect, and the fair Spaniard is to be congratulated on being the first of her sex to show what can be done in the way of rapid development. Miss Dolores, etc., may be fairly addressed, like her namesake sung of Mr. Swinburne, as "wise among women and wisest, our Lady of Pain."

FORT WAYNE - INDIANA.

Daily Sentinel

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1, 1886.
THE CITY.

Agent C. H. Newton, of the Wabash, is sick.

Mrs. T. J. Creighton, of Warsaw, is visiting in the city.

The Fort Wayne Medical college will open in two weeks.

Mr. T. J. Hanna, of Fort Wayne, was at Lafayette yesterday.

Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Heath are at home from their summer tour.

The Fort Wayne chapter works on the mark and past degrees to-night.

A picnic of the pupils of the Hoagland street school was held in Williams' grove to-day.

Wm. Miller, owner of the east end brick yard, is the happy father of a new girl baby.

J. B. Michaels was yesterday appointed postmaster at Zanesville, Wells county, vice D. B. Ward, removed.

Will Fredericks will shortly wed a Harrison street belle, and the Owl club is arranging a grand reception.

Alexander Muirhead, who lost a child a few days ago, has another child sick at his home near Williams' grove.

The police and fire department people were paid to-day. Next month occurs the quarterly pay day for city officers.

P. O. Morgan has taken out a permit to erect an addition to his brick house, on lot 105, Thomas' addition, to cost $200.

Rev. S. A. Northrop preached at Montpelier, Ind., to-day. The corner stone of a new Baptist church was laid there.

The cement sidewalks on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Berry streets, are worn in places and the breaks will injure some one.

Postmaster Kaough yesterday received his new commission. It is a plain piece of printing, but Grover Cleveland's name adds great beauty to it.

Weighmaster Ryan collected $97.75 for the city scales during the month of August. This is $30 more than in the corresponding month of 1885.

There is an elaborate whirling swing at the corner of Harrison and Berry streets. It was up on the Hamilton fields for a few days and the south end children went wild over it.

Colonel Shuman, who keeps a second-hand store under the Salvation Army hall, is "on his ear." He finds a throng in front of his store every night and last night broke up the meeting by knocking one of the hoodlums down.

Charley Porter, at one time a high flyer who held a fine railroad position, died some time ago and was buried in a pauper's grave at Chicago. His relatives afterward exhumed the remains and gave them a decent, Christian burial. Wine and women wrecked his career, at one time so promising.

It seems very queer that the Gazette should continue to hold in their possession a forged bond, which they know to be a forgery against Mr. Niezer. Democrats will surely understand the motive and not be influenced thereby. Mr. Niezer is too honorable a gentleman and stands too high in the estimation of the people to be thus dealt with. We publish a full explanation in another column, which should forever settle this question.

The Kansas and Colorado railroad, the new road, which was built by the McCracken brothers, formerly of Fort Wayne, was opened for the public yesterday. The road is already completed for a distance of thirty miles. From a time schedule sent to a friend here, we learn that W. V. McCracken is the general manager and Alfred Langley the superintendent of the new railroad system. Mr. J. K. McCracken unites in his person the offices of president and purchasing agent.

The uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias, escort to Warsaw on Monday next.

Hon. T. P. Keator is at Indianapolis booming his chances for lieutenant governor.

Geo. O. Richards is the official Temple bill poster this season. The bill-poster quarrels promise to be prolific.

A bridge in Jackson township broke down the other day and a farmer crossing at the time was almost killed.

The place of holding the next conference of the United Brethren church, was fixed at Roanoke, Huntington county.

Claude Gassaway, the Lafayette clothes thief arrested here, was bound over in the sum of $300 for trial in that city.

Miss Etta Hilligass, of Huntington, a daughter of Capt. W. J. Hilligass, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Geo. R. Hench, of 308 East Wayne street.

Mrs. Robert Ogden left this morning for Mt. Clemens, Mich., to be gone one month for the benefit of her health, which has been very poorly of late.

An exchange says that a Knight of Labor says that lawyers are denied membership in that organization because they produce nothing. Just let him hire a lawyer and ask him to produce his bill, and he will change his mind.

The teachers' institute continues at the M. E. college with a great attendance. This evening Dr. W. F. Yocum will lecture at the circuit court room, to the teachers. Music will be furnished by Professor W. F. Heath and Miss Princess Clark.

The Salvation army made another parade last night. Elder Oppy, a varied genius, has joined their ranks and the good word is blooming like the nose of a night editor. They assure Mayor Muhler they will not go into saloons or in no way annoy other people, but insist on having a special policeman.

The Chicago Times says: "The republicans of Indiana will hold their state convention to-morrow. The most troublesome portion of the platform to construct will be the temperance plank. There are seven candidates for the lieutenant governorship, but the prediction is made that R. S. Robertson, of Fort Wayne, will be the successful one."

The Richmond Palladium says: "Captain Lawton, of the regular army, who has driven Geronimo to bay, and forced him to ask for terms of surrender, was a Fort Wayne boy. Served as a volunteer during the late war, and joined the regular army after the war was over. He has proved to be one of the best Indian fighters in the west."

Wm. Martin, a son of ex-Congressman Terrence Martin, met with a severe accident yesterday afternoon. He is employed at the Jenney Electric Light works, and boarded Pittsburg train No. 1 with an intention to ride to the new shops of the company near Broadway. When the train arrived at Broadway young Martin jumped, but fell on his head, striking a rail and sustaining a severe injury about the head and shoulders. He was unconscious for some time and had to be carried to his home on South Hanna street.

For some reason or other the management of the Erie Dispatch fast-freight line has been making a secret of the fact that it will soon increase its facilities for handling freight. At present its line runs over the Chicago and Atlantic, the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio and the Erie, as well as over the Fort Wayne and the Pan-handle roads, to Salamanca, where connection is also made with the new line of the Erie road. On and after Sept. 1 the line will also operate over the Nickel Plate road between Chicago and Buffalo, connecting at the latter place with the Erie road.

IT IS COMPLETE. Mr. J. B. Niezer Makes A Manly Statement and Refutation of Insinuations Against Him.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL.

The public are aware of the fact that I am a candidate for auditor of Allen county, and that my name will be presented to the democratic county convention to be held next Saturday. For the purpose of defeating my nomination items have appeared at different times in the Fort Wayne Gazette intimating that I have been engaged in the "Bohemian oats" business. It is true that no direct charge of that kind has been made against me, nor have I been mentioned by name in the items, but they have been so worded as to leave no doubt that I was the person referred to. Any charge, intimation, or insinuation that I have, at any time, or in any manner, whatever, been engaged, directly or indirectly, in the "Bohemian oats" business is utterly false, and is unjustly made for the sole purpose of defeating my nomination. I append hereto, my affidavit, in which I deny, under oath, the truthfulness of the charge so made. Some time ago I was informed that a paper purporting to be a bond issued by me as secretary of "The Crawford, Henry and Williams county Seed company" was in the possession of the publishers of the Gazette, and I called on them for the purpose of examining it, which I was permitted to do, and found that the signature attached thereto was J. B. Niezer. My name is J. B. Niezer, and is always so written by me. The writing itself does not even bear any resemblance to mine. If it purports to be my signature, it is a base forgery and it was so pronounced by one of the publishers of the Gazette in my interview with him. I also publish herewith an affidavit of the treasurer of the company named in the bond, showing that I have never in any capacity or any manner had any connection whatever with the company. After my interview with the publishers, I presumed that nothing more would appear in that newspaper on the subject, but recently other items of like nature having appeared therein, I again called at the office and was informed by one of the publishers, Mr. Keator, that they intended to publish in their newspaper, in lithograph form, the bond above alluded to, and that it is to be published at the procurement and in the interest of certain persons who are opposing my nomination, and for the publication to be so made the publishers are to receive from said persons $250 and a bond indemnifying the publishers against any damage or liability that may arise from its publication. Mr. Keator has made his statement in the presence of George H. Wilson, esq., of this city, who will so state, if necessary. If such publication is made the public will understand why, and in whose interest it appears, and that the paper so lithographed was never signed by me and is a forgery. J. B. NIEZER.

A Woman and Her Child Deserted by Their Protector.

A rather winsome looking woman with a child, was at the south depot this morning, soliciting aid for her transportation to Plymouth. She had tickets from Cleveland to Peoria over the Nickel Plate road and says that at Lima, where they strayed to, her husband abandoned her and managed to get away with the family baggage. The woman and child came here, and she announced her intention of going to Plymouth, Marshall county, where her relatives reside. She did not seem much surprised or grieved at his disappearance and refused to give her name. It is alleged that it is a case of elopement, and that the man became disgusted with his fair partner and returned to his home in Ohio. She went to Plymouth on passenger train No. 1, and smiled on the railroad boys.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.
A Terrible Earthquake Almost Levels Charleston and Other Cities.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Southern telegraph company reports it has succeeded in re-opening communication with Charleston, South Carolina. The operator in that city says the earthquake shock there last night, was very severe and several lives lost and a number of persons were injured.

VIA RICHMOND.
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 1.—A dispatch just received here, says: "The streets of Charleston are blocked with fallen buildings; telegraph poles and tangled wires. Over sixty persons were killed or wounded. After the earthquake, fires broke out in different parts of the city, but they are not now spreading. The population spent the night in the streets and vacant lots. There is so much confusion it is hard to get at the facts."

DIRECT FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 1, 11 a. m.—An earthquake, such as has never before been known in the history of this city, affected Charleston last night shortly after ten o'clock, causing more loss and injury to property and far more loss of life than the cyclone of a year before. The city is wrecked, streets encumbered with masses of fallen bricks, and tangled telegraph and telephone wires, and up to an early hour it was almost impossible to pass from one part of the city to another. The first shock was by far the most severe. Most of the people with their families, passed the night in the streets, which even this morning are crowded with people, afraid to re-enter their homes. More than sixty persons were killed and wounded, mostly colored. Among the whites killed and fatally injured are: M. J. Lynch, Dr. R. Alexander Hammond and Ainsley Robinson. Fires broke out in different parts of the city immediately after the earthquake and some are still burning, but there is no danger of its spreading. There is no way of leaving the city at present.

ANOTHER SHOCK.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 1.—A special from Charleston says: "At 8:25 this morning another wave swept over the city, coming from the southeast and going northwest. By that time people who had been on the public streets and open places all night had ventured into their homes to get their clothing and something to eat. The approach of the quake was heralded by a rumbling sound resembling distant thunder. The quake then passed, the sound dying away in the distance. This was the only wave felt to-day.

AWFUL SCENES

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 1.—The terrible earthquake last night at 9:50, destroyed the business portion of the city. Men were frantic, women beseeched mercy from the Almighty, public buildings were irreparably damaged and many people seriously if not fatally injured. Women armed with hatchets, fought valiantly to rescue the imprisoned unfortunates and to add to the horror, many fires broke out and were ineffectually fought by the fire department. The night was hideous with the groans of the dying, screams of the wounded and prayers of the uninjured. Up to 10 o'clock a. m., there had been more shocks.

THE SCENES DESCRIBED.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—The city is a complete wreck. St. Michael's and St. Phillip's churches, two of the most historic churches in the city, are in ruins. Also Hibernia hall. Fully two-thirds of the residences in the city are uninhabitable, wrecked totally or partially. It is impossible to give a correct estimate of the casualties. It is conjectured that between fifty and 100 were killed and several hundred wounded. At the first shock fires broke out in five places in the city. Twenty houses were destroyed by fire. Scarcely a hundred houses in the city are occupied at this time. People are encamped in open places. All stores are closed and a scarcity of provisions is feared, because no one can be got to reach the stores to sell them.

PEOPLE CAMPING OUT

2:30 p. m.—The city is wrapped in gloom and business is suspended. People are generally in the streets, in tents and under improvised shelter and will camp out to night, fearing another shock. The gas works are injured and probably the city will be without light to-night. St. Michael's church is shattered and the steeple will come down; likewise the steeple of St. Phillip's. The steeple of the Unitarian church has fallen. Portions of the Hibernian hall and the main station house are demolished. There is much injury to mansions and the east and south batteries. The portion of the Ravenel mansion is down. Hardly a house in the city has escaped injury. Many are so shaken and cracked, that a hard blow would bring them down to the ground. The shock was severe at Summerville and Mt. Pleasant and Sullivan's Island, but no loss of life is reported. Fires in the earth are noticed from which fine sand apparently from a great depth, exudes. A sulphurous smell is very noticeable.

Three or four fires started in as many sections with the first shock. The city was illuminated with flames, thus leaving all to believe that whatever was left by the earthquake would be devoured by the fire. However, the fire department was so well divided and handled that the fires were under control by daylight. From fifteen to twenty residences and stores were consumed. The loss by fire and the earthquake cannot be accurately estimated, but can safely be placed at $5,000,000. As far as could be ascertained during the night, fifteen to twenty were killed and a much greater number were wounded. Charleston is now entirely isolated from the outside world.

Summerville, twenty-two miles from Charleston, was nearly destroyed by the earthquake last night. The passenger train from here to Charleston was thrown off the track near Summerville. The engineer and fireman were killed, and the passengers on the wrecked train and those on this morning's train, including the telegraph company's line men, have not reached Charleston.

THE CITY.

Charleston is the chief port and largest city of South Carolina, with a population of about 75,000. The city is famous for its bay and picturesque surroundings. It has numerous costly public buildings, educational institutions and magnificent promenades. Three railroads run into it, besides many lines of steamers. Open hostilities of the civil war began at Charleston, where Fort Sumpter was bombarded April 12, 1861.

A RELIEF TRAIN.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1, 12 m.—A relief train has been dispatched to Charleston to assist the sufferers and repair the railroad.

PRIGHT AT COLUMBIA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 1.—At 9:48 last night this city was visited by a terrible earthquake. The first two shocks were fearful, buildings swayed from side to side and the earth rose and fell like waves of the ocean. People rushed madly from the houses into the streets, some sprang from windows and were injured. The experience of those in the buildings at the first shock was that of being rocked as in a ship at sea. Many of the most substantial buildings were shaken to the foundation, walls cracked, and shrunk. Five minutes after the first shock the second came, and ten minutes later a third. Other shocks followed until 10:50 p. m., when the eighth shock was felt, and this lasted a minute and a half. At 4 o'clock this morning the ninth shock came; at 9:30 and 10:20 the city again trembled. There was very little sleep by any of the inhabitants of Columbia. Negroes thought the end of the world had come and held prayer meetings on the street corners.

IN INDIANA.

EVANSVILLE, Sept. 1.—Last evening at 9 o'clock this city was visited by two earthquakes. The motion of the first shock was that of a series of waves, which lasted several minutes. In about fifteen minutes afterward the second wave, although slight in comparison with the first, produced much excitement. Great consternation was caused among the colored population, who were holding services in the court house. They all rushed out into the street, thinking that a mob was attacking the jail. Every building in the city was shaken.

CHAMBERSBURG, Ind., Sept. 1.—There was a shock of earthquake here last night which created some excitement, but did no damage. It occurred a few minutes before 9 o'clock and lasted a few seconds.

THE SHOCK ELSEWHERE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The officials of the signal service bureau report that four distinct shocks were felt here. The first began at 9:54 and lasted forty seconds, the second shock was felt at 1:04, and was followed by another at 10:10, and by a fourth at 10:30. Professor Capen, the weather prophet of this city, predicted in the Republican several days ago that "awful and terrible" earthquake shocks would be reported about this date. He says that it is possible that there will be another about 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. When the shock came last night Mr. Capen was in the Republican office writing his predictions for to-morrow. As soon as the building began to shake, the editors, reporters and compositors on the Republican and the Post—which are in the same building—all ran out, but Mr. Capen remained. There were frights in other parts of the city, especially at the theatre.

RAILROAD TRAINS WRECKED.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—Two shocks of earthquake were felt this morning at 7:59 and 9:20, city time. The excitement has subsided. A number of houses have been reported to the fire warden as in danger, and from all parts of the city and surrounding neighborhood comes the reports of falling chimneys, parting of walls and smashing of crockery.

In a railroad accident at Langley Pond, ten miles south of Augusta, the fireman was killed. Another South Carolina railroad train is in the ditch at Horse creek, four miles from the city and the fireman is killed. The latter is a stock train and completely under water. The shocks broke dams at Langley and Bath. The South Carolina railroad tracks are washed away.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 1.—A shock swayed business buildings slightly north to south. At Jacksonville, Ill., buildings rocked but no damage. At Jacksonville, Ill., buildings vibrated east to west and people were greatly frightened. At Vicksburg, Mississippi, the council was in session and the city hall, a very frail building on the high brick pillars was made to rock so that the board adjourned suddenly and unceremoniously. At Hannibal, Mo., the walls of buildings swayed, meetings adjourned hastily and the printers in the Journal office dropped their sticks and prepared to run, but the shock was over before they got started.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—Dispatches coming in give brief accounts of the earthquake at Murphysboro. The shock was quite severe. Brick walls shook, glassware clanked, doors vibrated and the fire bell kept up a rapid alarm for more than a minute. The Forester's lodge had assembled in the second story, and so violent was the rocking that members without hats rushed down into the street. Some people were affected with nausea. There were two distinct shocks, lasting about a minute.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—At 9 o'clock last night a shock of earthquake caused considerable excitement in the city. It was of short duration, but distinctly felt in different parts of the town. In the Free Press building the editorial force made a stampede for the street. Clocks were stopped and the telephone interfered with.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—J. H. Averill, master of transportation of the South Carolina railroad company, telegraphs from Summerville that many have been killed and hundreds are homeless. The whole business portion of the city was badly wrecked.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 1.—Large buildings were shaken to their foundations about 9 o'clock last night by an earthquake shock that lasted nearly a minute. People fled in fright to the street. Windows were broken in numerous buildings and pictures fell from the walls.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—At 9:57 last evening very decided earthquake shocks were felt here. In the upper stories of the tall western Union building in this city the waves were plainly discernable, and persons walking about experienced the sensation as of falling.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 1.—At the blind institute and asylum for the insane the shock was distinctly heard at 8:50 last evening, and the inmates were badly frightened. Chairs were rocked in the city and chandeliers swung to and fro.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1.—The earthquake is the topic of the hour. Efforts to reach Charleston have been made from all points and failed. At Tybee the shock was more severely felt than in the city.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—An earthquake shock lasting about one minute occurred here last night. Buildings swayed perceptibly. No damage is reported. People left the theatres and ran into the streets and great excitement prevails.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here last night, the longer one at 8:54 and the shorter at 8:57. It was very perceptible to all in tall buildings, but not felt by the majority of the people.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—About 9:55 last evening a shock of earthquake was felt here, lasting about thirty seconds. The vibrations were from west to east.

To all these may be added, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mobile, Ala.; Montgomery, Ala.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Raleigh, N. C.; Lynchburg, Va.; Lexington, Ky.; Macon, Ga.; Memphis, Tenn.; Charleston, Va.; Meadville, Pa.; Davenport, Iowa; Jamestown, N. Y.; Plainfield, N. J.

THE POLITICIANS.

Republican Candidates for State
Offices and Their Contests.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—Nothing tangible presents itself yet to the observer of republican politics upon which to base a reasonable guess as to who will comprise the state ticket. Much depends upon the head of the ticket, and there is nothing so chaotic as this very member. Surface indications continue to point to Colonel Robertson, of Fort Wayne, as the probable nominee for lieutenant governor, but it can not be said that this is entirely satisfactory. Colonel Robertson is popular, but there is a reaching out for Porter or Harrison. The Grand hotel all day was alive with candidates and delegates. The American flag was displayed by the hotel people on the outside, while the inside was less ornately decorated by the candidates with tickets and posters announcing their candidacy and locating their headquarters. The candidates are practically all on the field, and the delegate who has arrived in advance is made the object of profound and universal attention. There is little display of over-confidence on the candidates' part, yet all are expressing themselves as content with the indications that Griffin is faring well for secretary of state, though Baldwin and Striker are being heard from often. Gus Lemcke, of Evansville, candidate for treasurer of state, arrived yesterday and created something of a flutter. Byram and Beem have been on the field for several days. The supreme court clerkship will occasion a warm contest. There are five aspirants, and all of them are formidable. Noble may be in the lead, but Whittaker, and Yancy are numerously supported, and John Wheatley is making many friends. Gooding, of Vanderburg, is only a confidential candidate.

The contest for the attorney generalship is arousing some heat. Some of the friends of Mr. Lovett are claiming that Mr. Michener, secretary of the republic, can state central committee, is using his position to secure the nomination, and that he has been traveling about the state at the expense of the committee while electioneering for himself. These charges to-day were indignantly denied by Mr. Michener, who denounces them as false and malicious, and challenges investigation. Chairman Huston, of the committee, says that "Mr. Michener has given his time to the duties of the secretaryship to the exclusion of attention to his canvass." Mr. Michener further claims that in five trips to five cities of the state, which he visited in the interest of the central committee, he paid expenses out of his own pocket, that it might not be charged that he was working his own interests at the expense of the committee. There are no other candidates for the attorney generalship than the two named.

Col. W. W. Dudley is among the arrivals at the Denison house.

"What is your estimate of the political situation in Indiana?" was asked of him.

"There never was a better fighting chance for the republicans, and they seem to be in the humor to take advantage of that chance. They are apparently perfectly harmonious and disposed to accept every opportunity which the situation affords."

Two views; Chairman Henderson, of the democratic central committee: "Oh, certainly, we'll carry the state. No congressional trouble can defeat our state and legislative tickets."

Chairman Huston, of the republican committee: "Our chances are excellent. Much, of course, depends upon the platform, but I think there is no doubt that we will carry Indiana."

The republican wise men are endeavoring to hit upon a satisfactory expression of views on the liquor question. As ex-Governor Porter to-day said: "The waters are muddy—have not settled yet, so that we can not see clearly what is to be done." It is declared the platform will declare for a protective tariff, but not as Blaine advocates, protection. The Midway statesman seems to have gone further than his party in this state will follow him.

The convention will be called to order by Chairman Huston. There will be no temporary organization.

There is a strong desire on the part of many delegates to make this a soldiers' ticket. One or more soldiers are candidates for every office, and several of them will, no doubt, "get there."

Illinois Republicans.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 1.—The republican state convention was called to order at noon. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention adjourned till 8 o'clock.

Christian Missionaries and People Massacred in China.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 1.—Advice from Oling-Too-Foo, the chief city of the province of Sechuen, state that the natives of the eastern part of that province and those of northern Cochin-China have risen against the christians and are massacring them and destroying their property. This active persecution is attributed to the imprudence of the English and American missionaries. In Cochin-China alone fifty christians have been killed, their houses burned and their farms destroyed.

In Sechuen a general massacre of Christians is reported to be in progress and they are killed wherever found. It is said that whole villages occupied by professors of that faith are being devastated. The apostolic vicar's residence in Sechuen has been burned to the ground. Not a piece of furniture, nor a book, nor a paper was saved. The foreign consuls barely escaped from Sechuen with their lives.

No efforts have been made up to the latest reports to quell the disorder, and so far as known it continues unoppressed.

A SPOUT

Creates Consternation out in Iowa.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—A dispatch was received at the city hall yesterday afternoon from the mayor of Belle Plaine, Ia., which states that an artesian well four inches in diameter burst when the depth of 180 feet had been reached in boring, and instantly a volume of water was forced into the air to the distance of several hundred feet.

This gradually increased in size and volume until a stream of water fully sixteen inches in diameter was formed, and the upward force of this stream is equal to the power of powder or dynamite. The flood threatens buildings and streets and all efforts to stay the spout have so far been futile. Hugo stones and bags of sand were blown high in the air by the water.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—The following telegram has been received here by Mayor Harrison: Washington, Aug. 31.—Owing to the condition of my health I cannot submit my name to go before the people as a candidate for congress. I am bed-fast. S. M. Stocke-lager. This leaves the field to Congressman Howard, regular democrat, and insures his election.

Mr. Frank Nirdlinger, who has been spending several months at Duluth, Minn., returned to the city this morning.

Supt. P. S. O'Rourke and family returned to-day from Potoskey, where they passed the summer months at their pleasant Lakeside cottage.

George Remond and A. D. Cressler's colored hostler were arrested to-day for fast driving. They had a "brush" on Calhoun street, and now Justice France is having a brush with them.

The police raided the Nellie Hince mansion last night and arrested Nellie, two maids and three visitors. They put up $18 a piece and the officers divided the gold, which the plump but ancient Nellie produced.

ENGLISH WOMEN.

What Caste Does for Them Over the Sea, Poor Things.

Gen. Adam Badeau, in one of his recent articles on the aristocracy, tells the following unpalatable truths: "The women of the aristocracy are profoundly affected by the institution of caste. Their lives and characters are widely different from what they would be without its influence. Born dependent on the other sex; indulged, for the most part, to independent rank; only the daughters, or wives, or sisters, or mothers of peers; deprived of any equitable share of fortune; doomed to be, more than any other women, the mere appendages of men—all the disadvantages of sex are for them intensified in a peculiar degree."

"The two facts of their absolute dependence and their consequent and necessary anxiety to please a man—far other and greater than the natural desire of woman for a mate—cannot but tell upon the character and develop traits not in themselves attractive or lovely. They make the women less trusting, less unselfish. They detract from the exquisite delicacy which is woman's greatest charm. The woman who is known to seek a man is far less likely to be sought; yet every high-born woman in England feels that she is in the market waiting for the highest bidder; every desirable man thinks he has but to position to the man, and this not only makes them inferior in individuality and force of character, but lessens the attractiveness of their behavior. There is something about them when compared to the men that makes you think of the difference the second rate people have in a less relative absence of distinction. No one can possess perfect manners who is incessantly conscious that his own dignity is inferior to that of his companion, and no woman in England is the equal of a man. This is one result of caste."

MISS DOLORES LILIANEY CASANOVAS has just received the degree of M. D. at Barcelona. "She began," says the Tall Mall Gazette, "her university studies at the age of 8, when 13 she became a B. A., and now, at the ripe age of 19, after coming out first in all her examinations, and taking numerous prizes, she is a fully qualified physician and surgeon. Fancy a female B. A. of 13 this coming on hideous diseases with six-syllabled names, and correctly diagnosing and prescribing for her brothers and sisters. But it is what we have got to expect, and the fair Spaniard is to be congratulated on being the first of her sex to show what can be done in the way of rapid development. Miss Dolores, etc., may be fairly addressed, like her namesake, 'sung of Mr. Swinburne, as 'wise among women and wisest, our Lady of Pain.'"

QUICK AS A WINK

We offer earnest men and women the greatest chance of their lives to make money rapidly with our new business of QUICK PHOTOGRAPHY. Easily learned, requires no experience and very small capital. Profits are 30 to 50 per cent. as what costs 50 cents sells for $1 to $5, and daily profits will run from $5 to $25. Can be worked in connection with other business with immense success and run as a side issue with most anything. The operators are always ready, light to carry, and by traveling about, visiting the farmer in the field, the mechanic in the shop, the housewife in the sitting-room, you will, in nine cases out of ten, get an order to "take a picture" of them "just as they are," or of the baby, the horse, cow, or the favorite pet cat or dog, or a group of the old family, or of the old homestead. You can do no good work as an artist and please all your patrons. It is a steady, pleasant and profitable calling. In connection with the Photo business you can run at night a Magic Lantern entertainment with an Electric Radiant Magic Lantern and views, advertising it during the day and easily adding $10 to $25 a day to your income, as many are doing. This is easy to learn and very pleasant. We supply all that is needed, all kinds of views, lenses, lecturers, etc. Students and teachers will find this very profitable. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1, 1886.

THE CITY.

Agent C. H. Newton, of the Wabash, is sick.

Mrs. T. J. Creighton, of Warsaw, is visiting in the city.

The Fort Wayne Medical college will open in two weeks.

Mr. T. J. Hanna, of Fort Wayne, was at Lafayette yesterday.

Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Heath are at home from their summer tour.

The Fort Wayne chapter works on the mark and past degrees to-night.

A picnic of the pupils of the Hoagland street school was held in Williams' grove to-day.

Wm. Miller, owner of the east end brick yard, is the happy father of a new girl baby.

J. B. Michaels was yesterday appointed postmaster at Zanesville, Wells county, vice D. B. Ward, removed.

Will Fredericks will shortly wed a Harrison street belle, and the Owl club is arranging a grand reception.

Alexander Muirhead, who lost a child a few days ago, has another child sick at his home near Williams' grove.

The police and fire department people were paid to-day. Next month occurs the quarterly pay day for city officers.

P. O. Morgan has taken out a permit to erect an addition to his brick house, on lot 105, Thomas' addition, to cost $200.

Rev. S. A. Northrop preached at Montpelier, Ind., to-day. The corner stone of a new Baptist church was laid there.

The cement sidewalks on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Berry streets, are worn in places and the breaks will injure some one.

Postmaster Knough yesterday received his new commission. It is a plain piece of printing, but Grover Cleveland's name adds great beauty to it.

Weighmaster Ryan collected $97.75 for the city scales during the month of August. This is $30 more than in the corresponding month of 1885.

There is an elaborate whirlingig swing at the corner of Harrison and Berry streets. It was up on the Hamilton fields for a few days and the south end children went wild over it.

Colonel Shuman, who keeps a second-hand store under the Salvation Army hall, is "on his ear." He finds a throng in front of his store every night and last night broke up the meeting by knocking one of the hoodlums down.

Charley Porter, at one time a high flyer who held a fine railroad position, died some time ago and was buried in a pauper's grave at Chicago. His relatives afterward exhumed the remains and gave them a decent Christian burial. Wine and women wrecked his career, at one time so promising.

It seems very queer that the Gazette should continue to hold in their possession a forged bond, which they know to be a forgery against Mr. Niezer. Democrats will surely understand the motive and not be influenced thereby. Mr. Niezer is too honorable a gentleman and stands too high in the estimation of the people to be thus dealt with. We publish a full explanation in another column, which should forever settle this question.

The Kansas and Colorado railroad, the new road, which was built by the McCracken brothers, formerly of Fort Wayne, was opened for the public yesterday. The road is already completed for a distance of thirty miles. From a time schedule sent to a friend here, we learn that W. V. McCracken is the general manager and Alfred Langley the superintendent of the new railroad system. Mr. J. K. McCracken unites in his person the offices of president and purchasing agent.

The place of holding the next conference of the United Brethren church, was fixed at Roanoke, Huntington county.

Claude Gassaway, the Lafayette clothes thief arrested here, was bound over in the sum of $300 for trial in that city.

Miss Etta Hilligass, of Huntington, a daughter of Capt. W. J. Hilligass, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Geo. R. Hensch, of 303 East Wayne street.

Mrs. Robert Ogden left this morning for Mt. Clemens, Mich., to be gone one month for the benefit of her health, which has been very poorly of late.

An exchange says that a Knight of Labor says that lawyers are denied membership in that organization because they produce nothing. Just let him hire a lawyer and ask him to produce his bill, and he will change his mind.

The teachers' institute continues at the M. E. college with a great attendance. This evening Dr. W. F. Yocum will lecture at the circuit court room, to the teachers. Music will be furnished by Professor W. F. Heath and Miss Princess Clark.

For some reason or other the management of the Erie Dispatch fast-freight line has been making a secret of the fact that it will soon increase its facilities for handling freight. At present its line runs over the Chicago and Atlantic, the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio and the Erie, as well as over the Fort Wayne and the Pan-handle roads, to Salamanca, where connection is also made with the new line of the Erie road. On and after Sept. 1 the line will also operate over the Nickel Plate road between Chicago and Buffalo, connecting at the latter place with the Erie road.

IT IS COMPLETE. Mr. J. B. Niezer Makes A Manly Statement and Refutation of Insinuations Against Him.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL.

The public are aware of the fact that I am a candidate for auditor of Allen county, and that my name will be presented to the democratic county convention to be held next Saturday. For the purpose of defeating my nomination items have appeared at different times in the Fort Wayne Gazette intimating that I have been engaged in the "Bohemian oats" business. It is true that no direct charge of that kind has been made against me, nor have I been mentioned by name in the items, but they have been so worded as to leave no doubt that I was the person referred to. Any charge, intimation, or insinuation that I have, at any time, or in any manner, whatever, been engaged, directly or indirectly, in the "Bohemian oats" business is utterly false, and is unjustly made for the sole purpose of defeating my nomination. I append hereto, my affidavit, in which I deny, under oath, the truthfulness of the charge so made. Some time ago I was informed that a paper purporting to be a bond issued by me as secretary of "The Crawford, Henry and Williams county Seed company" was in the possession of the publishers of the Gazette, and I called on them for the purpose of examining it, which I was permitted to do, and found that the signature attached thereto was J. B. Niezer. My name is J. B. Niezer, and is always so written by me. The writing itself does not even bear any resemblance to mine. If it purports to be my signature, it is a base forgery and it was so pronounced by one of the publishers of the Gazette in my interview with him. I also publish herewith an affidavit of the treasurer of the company named in the bond, showing that I have never in any capacity or any manner had any connection whatever with the company. After my interview with the publishers, I presumed that nothing more would appear in that newspaper on the subject, but recently other items of like nature having appeared therein, I again called at the office and was informed by one of the publishers, Mr. Keator, that they intended to publish in their newspaper, in lithograph form, the bond above alluded to, and that it is to be published at the procurement and in the interest of certain persons who are opposing my nomination, and for the publication to be so made the publishers are to receive from said persons $250 and a bond indemnifying the publishers against any damage or liability that may arise from its publication. Mr. Keator has made his statement in the presence of George H. Wilson, esq., of this city, who will so state, if necessary. If such publication is made the public will understand why, and in whose interest it appears, and that the paper so lithographed was never signed by me and is a forgery.

IT IS CRUEL. A Woman and Her Child Deserted by Their Protector.

A rather winsome looking woman with a child, was at the south depot this morning, soliciting aid for her transportation to Plymouth. She had tickets from Cleveland to Peoria over the Nickel Plate road and says that at Lima, where they strayed to, her husband abandoned her and managed to get away with the family baggage. The woman and child came here, and she announced her intention of going to Plymouth, Marshall county, where her relatives reside. She did not seem much surprised or grieved at his disappearance and refused to give her name. It is alleged that it is a case of elopement, and that the man became disgusted with his fair partner and returned to his home in Ohio. She went to Plymouth on passenger train No. 1, and smiled on the railroad boys.
